SERVICE WITH A SMILE, IF YOU'RE LUCKY...

Whoever said, "attitude is everything," doesn't work here. At Doppelgangers, we know that it's physically impossible to have a cheerful attitude 100% of the time. So why even try? And who doesn't have a bad day now and then, especially at work? To try and constantly maintain that chipper, positive attitude 100% of the time, surely the rest of your work would suffer for it. Think about it: what if you're working on something really important like brain surgery, or preparing great food, or creating superior hand-crafted brews? Suddenly, attitude really isn't everything, is it?

Now ask yourself, "which would I rather have: great food and great hand-crafted microbrews, or mediocre food, flat beer, and service from some obsequious waitress who is shamelessly gunning for a bigger tip by pretending to like you?"

We thought so.

That's why, at Doppelgangers, we focus on the things we know we can do well, 100% of the time; things like creating great food and the finest hand-crafted beers.

As for our servers at Doppelgangers, it is entirely possible for you to come across a nice one. And it's just as likely that you'll run into a mean one. Around here, it can go either way. The way we figure it, that's what makes a ballgame. But you'll always know that we'll make it up to you with great food and the finest microbrews around. And should you encounter a nice server at Doppelgangers for three visits in a row, you might want to consider buying a lottery ticket on the way home; it's obviously your lucky day.
